Commission Files Suit Against Jourdan Shores

Waveland School In Final Planning Stage

Plans are in the making for Waveland to get a 12 class room school building complex with a teachers lounge, modern kitchen and cafeteria, library, and administrative suite, according to Robert Hamilton, president of the Board of the Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School District, following a Monday night meeting of that group.

Funds in the total amount of $483,000 have come in, reported Joe D. McCulloch, Superintendent of City Schools, and he explained: "The site on which the building is to be constructed is approximately 11 acres of land in Waveland, on St. Joseph Street. We were lucky in getting through the Governor's Emergency Council a direct grant in the amount of $245,000 to add to funds on hand which include $75,000 in insurance money, $50,000 on the We Care fund, $113,000 from the Education Finance Commission."

McCulloch said there was a very real need for a school of this type in Waveland for three years. The School Board had made attempts to obtain funds. For a while it looked as if they would have to settle for a six class room building, and later make additions but with the grant money the larger building is assured. "With this amount of money we believe we can get the school the Board wanted from the start," McCulloch said. "This is the greatest blessing that ever happened to our school district and we really had a good meeting with the city officials," McCulloch added.

Fred Wagner, architect, who has made the preliminary plans for the building was given authority from the Board to begin final plans and specifications which are expected to be presented in the near future. McCulloch said it is the goal to have the building completed by September 1971 and added: "We have waited three years for this building, so I suppose we can wait another year."

Wagner's preliminary plans show in the Administrative Suite an office for the principal, a waiting room, records vault, work room, supply room, clerk bay, and guidance counselor's office. Besides the 12 ultra modern classrooms there will be adequate rest room facilities, the cafeteria will have a stage for convertible usage, and there will be spacious storage room facilities.

Billy Sills, who served as coach for the girls' basketball team and as guidance counselor for the Senior High, has received a promotion and will be the principal in charge of North Bay and Waveland schools. Other changes in the school personnel were mentioned in these columns at the close of the school year.

The Governor's Emergency Council also provided a grant of $50,000 to replace the football lighting system which was destroyed during Hurricane Camille.

Housing Project Begins Next Week

Finalizing of the plans for the low income housing project in Bay St. Louis were completed Monday afternoon during a meeting of the contractor, Correlated Development Company, Shreveport, Louisiana, a representative of St. Stanislaus and the Bay St. Louis Housing Authority.

The site for the project 19.97 acres purchased from St. Stanislaus, began at Old Spanish Trail and extends for 3,000 feet almost to New Highway 90.

Forty-six buildings will be constructed of which forty-five will contain sixty-five dwelling units. Not all the land will be used for the buildings as some of the land will be cleared and held for future additions to the project.

The largest of the buildings will contain a community area, an office and storage facilities. Of the dwelling units two will have five bedrooms; six will have four bedrooms; eleven three bedrooms and twelve two bedrooms. The balance of the units will have one bedroom. A ground breaking ceremony for the $1,058,478.00 project

Ray Baxter, chairman of the Hancock County Planning Commission, announced that his agency has filed suit against Jourdan River Shores, Inc., a Mississippi corporation. Baxter stated that the commission had been advised by representatives of Jourdan River Shores that the principals of Jourdan River Shores are E. B. Broadwood, Billy Bolos, and Senator James Adcock of Monroe, Louisiana. According to the corporation charter on file, the incorporators were Jackie B.

Holmes, 904 Highway 11, Piquette, Miss., and Jack Ford, P. O. Box 600, Pass Christian, Miss. However, the commission did not understand that the incorporators were the principal investors.

Baxter stated that the suit alleged that Jourdan River Shores subdivision, has not in any particular complied with the subdivision regulations of Hancock County and that the nature of the suit is one for the developer to comply with the subdivision regulations before selling lots.

In 1967, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County adopted the regulations which are extensive and among other things provide that a subdivision shall, before selling lots, have paved streets and water and sewerage in place. Jourdan River Shores is now selling lots without having completed the streets or water and sewerage systems.

Baxter further stated that the subdivision regulations were adopted for the orderly development of Hancock County and particularly to guard against slum type developments that pollute streams and destroy natural beauty, the view being that subdivisions shall enhance the beauty of the county and not destroy it. Therefore, the planning commission, by unanimous decision, felt that it had the duty to protect the people from future health problems and unsightly development by strict enforcement of the regulations.

At that time he was among the first professional football players on the Gulf Coast. Later, he continued in organizing the Mississippi Gulf Coast Football League and managed a team from Waveland known as the "Seahawks".

In the early thirties he assumed management and control of his family's lumber, timber and land business, which he now operates as a land developer. He continued in organizing the Mississippi Retail Lumber Dealers Association and served on the original Board of Directors of the P. O. E. Later served as Pres. Miss. Naval Stores Operators Ass'n. In 1953 joined in the organization of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Haas is active in 4th Degree K of C work, now serving as Past Grand Scribe of the P. O. E. Lodge Assembly of the FOURTH DEGREE in Bay St. Louis.

Haas at the present represents Hancock County as a member of the Board of Directors of the Pearl River Basin Development District with headquarters in Jackson, Miss. The Commission is responsible for the development of Pearl River and its tributaries and further the improvement facilities in all the Counties included in the District.

Haas is still very active in real estate development in this area as well as Louisiana. He is presently developing in Bay St. Louis a subdivision

Facility Included In NASA Appropriation Bills

John Stennis announced that the NASA Test Facility and the Space Administration will be included in the NASA Appropriation Bills for the fiscal year which the first of July of this year a provision has been included setting aside ten million dollars for special use in connection with the conversion of the facility to a variety of other uses. John Stennis indicated that ten million dollars is used by NASA to provide nonreimbursable technical and other supporting services to Federal agencies engaged in environmental as well as space missions. "These funds," Senator Stennis stated, "are intended to keep the MTF open while other government agencies determine in what ways the existing facilities and technical support capabilities can be used constructively by them in pursuing their assigned fields of activity, especially in environmental matters. Problems of the environment are rapidly becoming of transcending importance. The money is this year's money, and it will serve a very useful purpose in insuring that the very best possible use is made of these fine existing facilities on our Gulf Coast, where such excellent opportunities exist for effective conduct of environmental programs dealing with the land, sea, and air."

The award was made last week after the Hancock County Board of Supervisors ratified a motion passed by their port commissioners earlier this month.

Bids on the project were opened June 23 at the port office and referred at that time to Michael Buser, Jr., Inc., the commission's airport consulting engineers for tabulation and computation.

The port authority, operators of Stennis Field, approved the bid at their session of July 2 after hearing engineering recommendations.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD NECAISE

Peterson-Necaise Wed At Annunciation

Annunciation Catholic Church, Kiln, was the setting for the wedding Sunday afternoon of Miss Diane Agnes Peterson, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Peterson of Kiln, and the late Lavendar Peterson, and Richard W. Necaise, son of Judge and Mrs. Forrest J. Necaise of Waveland.

Rev. Father Hayes performed the double ring ceremony. Given in marriage by her brother Felton Peterson of Mobile, Ala., the bride wore a white floor length gown of taffeta fashioned on A-lines with long sleeves and high neckline trimmed with Alencon lace re-embroidered in seed pearls. Her long veil of illusion fell from a flat silk bow and she carried a cascade of miniature white carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Shirley Peterson of Gulfport was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Kathy Pollin, niece of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaid. The maid of honor wore a long yellow satin A-line dress and carried a bouquet of matching carnations. Miss Pollin wore a green dress fashioned on similar lines and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Ralph Mareno was best man and Howard Rapp, also of Bay St. Louis, served as groomsmen. Following the ceremony a reception was held at Annunciation School. The bride's table, centered with a three-tiered cake topped with the traditional bride and groom, was presided over by Mrs. Margaret Pollin and Mrs. James Ladner. ## Boat Rodeo For Waveland Children

The counselors have pooled their own money to provide extra poles and equipment for those who may not have their own. Through the efforts of local merchants and growers a picnic lunch of hot dogs, buns, chips and soft drinks will be served at noon.

"All we need now," director Stanley Weidman said, "is for the tide and the fish to be cooperative, so the day will be a complete success."

Sea Coast Echo fishing columnist L. S. "Doc" Elliott will be on hand to judge the day's catch and offer expert advice to the neophyte fishermen.

TO UNDERGO SURGERY Claude Tracey, Waveland, who has been under observation in the Keesler Air Force Base Hospital for several weeks will undergo surgery this week to relieve his condition caused by ulcers. Tracey is Commander of the Waveland Bourgeois-Stieffell-Ray Post No. 77 of the American Legion.

Getting less than $12.50 per cord for your green timber?

interpine's complete utilization practices can result in better profits on your timber interpine has found many landowners selling quality timber for $3 to $4 per cord. They could be earning much more.

Perhaps you've been told by someone that your timberland doesn't have enough logs or poles or piling to merit cutting. He's acting in good faith, but maybe he's interested in cutting only one size or type of timber.

At interpine, we buy many sizes of timber for our treating plant and sawmill. Even small poles and piling, not just the larger sizes. More's an example:

Recently interpine and its producers went back over a 400-acre tract on which all the poles had just been cut by one of our contractors. When this operation by our contractor was complete, interpine went in. We cut only small-pole timber. The entire tract yielded 64,000 in additional profit—profit he hadn't counted on from our operations. That's an extra profit of $10 per acre.

Yes, we mean profit! We cut approximately 800 cords from which the landowner realized $4000. If it had not been for our operations this production would have gone into pulpwood at $4 per cord. The difference, $4000, was added credit to the landowner.

For best profit, of course, you should contact interpine before cutting any timber from your land.

But if you have any percentage of timber suitable for small poles or piling, or large poles or sawlogs, we'll be happy to look at your timberland, even if we make you an offer. Chances are we can offer you a better price, even up to $12.50 per cord for quality products.

All inquiries treated confidentially. Call or write us today.

Bay St. Louis Theatre Echoes

Why L'Inconnu has been well paid that to the sincere of the audience. One of the judges of our latest play, who happens to be a member of another Little Theatre, announced on Saturday night performance that he had enjoyed the next play will also be a tribute to our director, and producer, and pro-flowing with so much family love that it has become a timeless favorite, continually revived. "I was tired and wound up tight when I went into the theater," said someone Thursday night, "but by the second act I had relaxed completely. It was just what I needed." "It was so timely, too," remarked someone else. "Except for references to Mrs. Roosevelt and the WPA its dialogue could well be that of the youth and older generation of today." All in all, YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU was an outstanding success in 1970, just as it was when presented here for the first time in 1949.

Although the show played to a full house each night, it was the Thursday night opening performance that set the atmosphere of nostalgia for the celebration of the Little Theatre's 25th anniversary. Attending that evening and welcomed by Joseph Marochino during his curtain talk were former Bay St. Louis residents John Bell of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Blair of Coral Gables, Mrs. A. L. Samuel and Mrs. Louise Dresher of New Orleans, and Dr. and Mrs. Bedford Floyd of Gulfport, all of whom were active promoters of the local theatre during its early years. A plaque honoring the theatre's co-founders, Mrs. Blair and the late Mrs. John Bell, was unveiled, and an engraved gavel was presented by chairman of production Burt Barrett to president Marochino as a token of the organization's appreciation of his eminent services in recent years.

Produced by board member Andre Arceneaux and directed by Caroline Kiefer, the cast of nineteen included eight first-timers ... a challenge to any director and especially to one responsible for the 25th anniversary show. Leading roles were played by Joe Barbo as eccentric Martin Vanderhof and by Dixie Ogden as his equally unpredictable daughter Penny Sycamore. Barbo, a former professional actor, exhibited the ease and stagecraft necessary to achieve a perfect balance between comedy and the YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU philosophy of life that Martin Vanderhof believed in earnestly. His was a demanding role, and the play is indebted to him for a brilliant performance. Mrs. Blair, a new member to this area, played stage, gave a jellidly delivered, happy-go-lucky interpretation of the mother in a zany household and scenes an accolade for her courage in attempting a starring role as her very first one.

The only two straight roles in the comedy went to part and pretty Dale Russell, also a first-time actress, and to versatile actor Peter Hagan, who were as hard as a pair of young lovers as our theatre has seen in many a play. Philip Allison, a veteran of 1949, last, repeated his role of the Russian tutor-instructor and in the opinion of this reviewer, who saw it both times, again gave an outstanding performance.

An exciting young new actor, whom we hope to see again soon in a bigger role, is Karen Compretta, whose college training in speech and dancing made her portrayal of would-be baller dancer Essie electric and utterly enchanting. Terry Malone II, a serious and ambitious young actor who recently starred in ENTER LAUGHING, brought laughter again as Essie's xylophone-playing husband who "came to dinner one night and just ... stayed!"

It is surely a credit to Mrs. Kiefer that all her supporting and minor actors gave believable performances that made writing this review a pleasure. Cliff Storm as Paul Sycamore ... childlike and gentle in his love of life; Gerald Gex as bumbling, dim-witted Mr. DelPina; gifted actor Edward Craig and talented corner Lila Greenfield as the supercilious Mr. and Mrs. Wade; and new comers also brought down the house after night in their roles of roles as Donald and Rheba ... the audience loved them all! Andre Arceneaux, star of many of our plays, took time away from the problems of producing the show to play a bit part, that of a choleric tax collector, and made it most memorable. Another longtime Little Theatre

Waveland Pet Show Winners

Everything from collies to chihuahuas, chickens to guinea pigs turned up Friday on Waveland School playground for the Waveland Recreation Program Pet Show.

There were also dogs of all sizes and parentage, cats and kittens, a bowlful of minnows and a rather unimpressive chicken with colorful iridescent plumage. In a more bizarre area there was a minute guppy in a juice glass, a sleepy snail in a fruit jar and a very small tree frog in a shoe box, complete with sand and tree leaves.

The occasion was the weekly Friday contest for children participating in the Operation Upturn-sponsored recreation program. The children responded with their usual enthusiasm and imagination. Judges for this contest were Mrs. Louise Lynch, Mrs. Helen Hargrett, and postmaster Walter Turcotte, standing in for ailing Don McIntyre. Entrants were to be judged in three categories — Largest Pet, Smallest Pet and Most Unusual Name. There was a special award with one award only.

A rumor that someone was bringing a pony caused a certain amount of consternation among the largest pet hopefuls, but since the pony failed to materialize, first, second and third place in that category went to three large dogs owned by Kim Thomab-Hall, Lorena Bourgeois, and Janice Martin. Just before judging began for the Smallest Pet, a small boy tearfully confessed to director Stanley Weidman that he had caught a fly to check, but it got away. Mr. Weidman did his best to replace the youngster's "pet," but the only available flies were too elusive, so consolation was the only thing Weidman could offer. Smallest Pet awards went to Pat Decker for his guppy, Joe Martinez for his snail, and Harro Shorle for his tree frog (or is it a toad?).

Judges were hard pressed to choose three Most Unusual Names, but finally came up with the following winners: Joe Martinez for his snail, Eucophalus, named after Alexander the Great's horse; Pat Decker for his guppy, Moby Dick; Kim Thomab-Hall for her Bagdad oscar, Yanto (Wahlo for Little One). Lynn Allain's dog won the award for the Best Trained Pet.

Mr. and Miss Playground awards for the week of July 6-10 went to Carl Duffy and Janice Martin, respectively.

FIRST IN PLANNING—The University of Mississippi Department of City Planning, which is headed by Clyde E. Cook (center), has been granted full accreditation by the Association of Collegiate Schools of Planning, becoming the only graduate program in the Southeast to receive the distinction. Among students enrolled in the Ole Miss program are (from left) Devitt L. Greaser of Yazoo City, Phil Armor of Amory and Lucien Bourgeois of Bay St. Louis.

City Planning Degree Now Offered At UM

The University of Mississippi Department of City Planning has been granted full accreditation by the Association of Collegiate Schools of Planning, becoming the only graduate program in the Southeast to receive this distinction.

The Department of City Planning at Ole Miss was organized in 1959 and is one of about 27 degree programs throughout the nation accredited by the ACP.

"For every graduate, we have an average of 20 requests from prospective employers," said Clyde E. Cook, chairman of the Department.

"Our graduates are employed primarily with community and regional planning agencies and economic development districts throughout the Southeast. Recent graduates are located in Atlanta and Rome, Ga.; Clearwater, Fla.; Greenville, S.C.; Charlotte, N.C.; Memphis, New Orleans; Jackson; the Gulf Coast; and cities throughout Mississippi.

Graduates of the program receive the Master of Urban and Regional Planning degree. Cook said interest in the program has grown steadily since its inception 11 years ago; and recent events, particularly the President's message on protecting the nation's environment, have heightened interest both among students and employers. The Department has grown from 10 students in 1966 to an expected enrollment of 30 graduate students this fall. Twenty graduate degrees have been awarded by the Department since 1966.

"About 75 percent of our students are native Mississippians and many are remaining in the state after graduation. Some of our students are college graduates who have been working for several years and who have returned to school to specialize in urban planning," Mr. Cook said.

The Ole Miss program places emphasis on students' gaining field experience by working directly with communities on problems which currently face urban areas. Each student must serve a six semester hour internship working with a community or planning consultant firm.

Cook said the program is concerned with land pollution—junk yards, incompatible land uses and the like—as well as with air or water pollution. "We want to help communities upgrade themselves by improving housing, solving the central business districts

Shower Honors Bride-Elect

The table was centered with a large white paper rose with yellow streamers ending with small roses.

Gifts were presented from a wishing well and miniature wishing wells filled with mints were given each guest.

The honoree, who chose a white dress with orange trim, and the mothers, Mrs. Charles Breath Jr. and Mrs. R. J. Calre, received a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Breath was also honored with a luncheon Tuesday at the Metairie Country Club hosted by Mrs. John Housey, one of the bride-elect's attendants.

ACCEPTS DELIVERY OF HER 1968 O.K. USED CHEVY II FROM LAMAR-LANE SALESMAN CHARLES TOWNSEND AT BAY ST. LOUIS.

Miss Patricia Ann Baughman of Gulfport needed a car for transportation to her job at the hospital as a nurse. She decided that she would try and see if she could buy a late model car rather than a new one. She shopped around and found out what the different dealers had to offer. She visited Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and talked to salesman Charles Townsend to see what they had to offer in a late model car. Charles Townsend offered Miss Baughman a 1968 Chevy II at a Lamar-Lane price that was a good deal and also a money saving deal. Miss Baughman wants to recommend Charles Townsend and Lamar-Lane Chevrolet to all of her friends interested in buying a new car or used car. If you're planning on buying a car, visit Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and ask for Charles Townsend, he could save you many dollars.

English Visitor In Bay St. Louis

Mrs. Wesley Davies of Irbby, England, arrived last week for a five-week visit with her son, Neville Jacob and his family of 312 Boardman Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

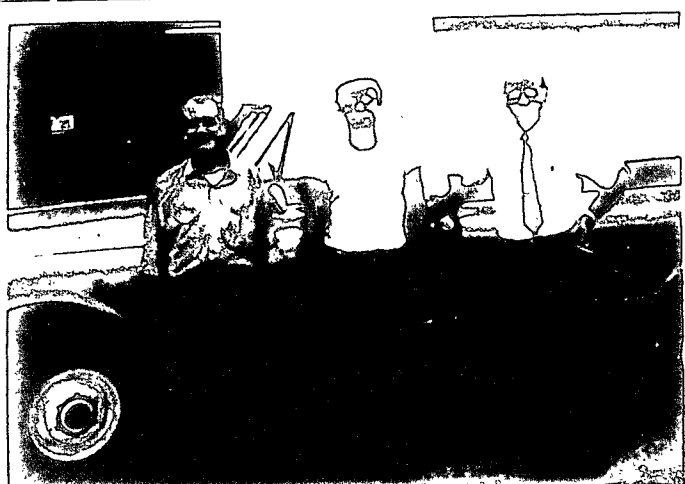

This is Mrs. Davies' second visit to the Bay area having visited here three years ago. She was appalled at Camille's destruction along the coast and said it reminded her of parts of England during World War II.

A bright conversationalist, Mrs. Davies is quite active in spite of her past 70 years and being a flower lover she enjoys the many flowers in the area. An amateur artist she is doing

The school established by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart at St. Stanislaus in 1870 was operated for Bay St. Louis day students. Three, perhaps four generations of students attended the school which for the past several years has not been in operation. It had fallen into such a state of disrepair that it was demolished last week.

We believe:
 That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;
 That the brotherhood of man transcends the severities of nations;
 That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;
 That government should be of laws rather than of men;
 That each man's greatest treasure lies in his own personality;
 And that service to humanity is the best work of life.
